

Side Two

CINDERELLA May I help you?

RICHARD I hope so! I was on a hunting trip and got separated from the rest of the group on the way back to the castle. I've been walking quite a while and I've grown very thirsty. May I come in?

CINDERELLA I don't know, I'm not supposed to let strangers in the house. Do you work at the castle?

RICHARD You could say that.

CINDERELLA Do you work for the prince?

RICHARD I don't work for him, but we're very close.

CINDERELLA Well, then...I guess it's okay. Come in.

RICHARD Thank you.

CINDERELLA Would you like something to drink?

RICHARD Yes, very much, thank you.

CINDERELLA EXITS, RETURNS WITH DRINK

CINDERELLA Here you are.

RICHARD Thank you.

CINDERELLA What is the prince like?

RICHARD Oh, he's very nice.

CINDERELLA I knew he would be, I could tell.

RICHARD You could tell? You met him?

CINDERELLA Oh, no. I saw him once out of my window, when he came back from a tournament. There was a big parade that went past and I could just tell he was probably the nicest person in the kingdom.

RICHARD You could tell that from just one little glance?

CINDERELLA You can tell a lot from a glance.
